TO THE PUBLIC.

DR. TRUSLER, whose study has ever been to be useful in his generation, in publishing a variety of books of information and instruction, begs leave to recommend the following books to the attention of those who have at heart the education of youth, but more particularly the first nine, and he trusts the good reception they have met with, will justify any thing he may say in their favour.

What is the knowledge youth should acquire? They should have a general knowledge of every thing about them. The following book will give them this knowledge, and unfold their ideas gradually from little objects to great ones.

1. The PROGRESS of MAN and SOCIETY, or a picture of the world, illustrated by near 150 cuts, beautifully designed, and precisely and clearly treated on; calculated, to lead children by amusement, to a universal knowledge of every thing. by Dr. TRUSLER, Author.

C

of HOGARTH MORALIZED, who flatters himself it will be found the most entertaining and informing book that ever yet was published, and what every parent or instructor should put into the hands of youth, it being addressed to minds between nine years of age and fifteen. 12mo. price 5s. bound, printed on a very fine paper, and hot-pressed, a very cheap book, considering the number of cuts, &c. picked impressions, 7s.

They should have a tolerable insight into religion and sacred history, the nature of the universe, its natural productions, trade, and the constitution and history of their own country. The following book is a proper accession to No. 1. above, and will teach them this, and enable them to converse on all the general topics of life.

*2. A COMPENDIUM of USEFUL KNOWLEDGE. second edition, price 3s. 6d. half-bound; containing a clear and concise account of every thing a young person ought to know, and nothing he ought not to know. Dr. T. persuades himself that such persons, schoolmasters, or others who have the improvement of those under their care at heart, will, on looking over this, and the former book, be of his way of thinking, that nothing can be better adapted for school-books.

They should have a knowledge of life, and know how to behave in all companies; the two following books will teach them this, and lead them gradually on.

*3. PROVERBS EXEMPLIFIED and illustrated by a variety of CUTS, teaching morality and a knowledge of the world: after the manner, and by the Author, of Hogarth Moralized.—For schools, as a succession-book to Esop's Fables, 12mo. price 3s. half-bound. A pleasing gift for youth. —These prints, though in wood, are so well designed, and the characters in human life so well drawn and preserved, that persons of taste may examine them with pleasure; and Dr. TRUSLER ventures to say are no way inferior to Hogarth's.

*4. PRINCIPLES of POLITENESS, addressed to both sexes, 15th edition, just published, price only 2s. half-bound. This forms polite manners, and shows young women how to act when in company with young men.

They should know how to acquit themselves well at their own tables; the following book will teach them this.

USEFUL and FAMILIAR BOOKS. (3)

*5. The HONOURS of the TABLE, with the whole ART of CARVING, illustrated by cuts, price 2s. 6d. half-bound, 2d edit. teaching how to carve any joint, &c. served up, and act with that grace that captivates:

“To do the honours of a table well, is one of the outlines of a well-bred man, and to carve well, little as it may seem, is useful twice every day; and the doing of which ill, is not only troublesome to ourselves, but renders us disagreeable and ridiculous to others.”

They should be well acquainted with the laws of their own country; the following book will teach them this.

*6. BLACKSTONE'S COMMENTARIES, abridged, price 3s. 6d. half-bound. Dr. Truſter flatters himself this will be found as useful a book as any he has published, as it wanted only such an abridgement and arrangement of the matter, as he has here made to make Blackstone a proper book for all classes of people, young and old, and it is written in such language as every one will understand.

They should be able to read well, and write and speak correctly; the following book will teach them this.

*7. AN ENGLISH ACCIDENCE, or ABSTRACT of GRAMMAR, with rules for reading, prose and verse, price 1s. All the grammars that are published require the study of years, but this book will teach young people to write and speak correctly, without making grammar a study.

They should have a proper choice of words; the following book will teach them this.

*8. The DISTINCTION between WORDS esteemed SYNONIMOUS; second edition, with great additions, price 3s. 6d. useful to all who would either write or speak with propriety and elegance, as it determines the proper choice of words, in which the beauty of all language consists. A second volume is at press.

They should be cautioned against the deceptions and villainies of the world; the following book will teach them this.

9. MODERN TIMES, or the ADVENTURES of GA-

* Such Books as are marked thus, *, are sold as Pamphlets, thirteen to the dozen.

(4) USEFUL and FAMILIAR BOOKS.

BRIEL OUTCAST, in 3 vols. 12mo. with 12 highly-finished copper-plates, price 1s. sewed, fourth edition.

This work is written in imitation of Gil Blas, is a keen satire on the times, and penned with infinite humour; it is calculated to shew the rising generation the arts, deceptions, and iniquities of the world, in all situations and professions of life, of course, is a useful family-book, conveying information under the mask of entertainment.

The plates were designed by Ibbotson, and have been engraved at a great expence for this fourth edition; a proof, with the number of editions it has gone through, of the opinion of the public respecting it. Since the first edition of this work, more than a third of the whole has been added to it.

*10. The FIRST FOUR RULES of ARITHMETIC, price 1s. There are few persons in life that require a knowledge of more than these four rules, and they are here explained to the capacity of girls, not like other treatises of arithmetic, which require a master at their elbow, but may be easily understood by one of 15 years old, without such assistance; of course is very useful where schools are at a distance, or to revive what they have learnt at school; but to such as need a further knowledge in figures, the following book will supply the deficiency.

*11. FAMILIAR TABLES, price 3s. composed for all the purposes of life, and to save calculation. These tables must be useful to every one, as calculations are often made in a hurry, and often erroneous, whereas they will be found here accurate.

*12. The ECONOMIST, 13th edition, price 1s. of Estimates of Family-Expences, from 80l. a year to 800l. shewing how to make a little go a great way; how well a family may live for a little money, and what a man may expend consistent with his income; (Surely such a book is proper for young house-keepers!) with the cheapest method of keeping horses, carriages, &c.

*13. POETIC ENDINGS, price 2s. 6d. or a Dictionary of Rhymes, single and double, comprising nearly all the words in the English Language. To such as write poetry, this will save a great deal of mechanical thought.

*14. The SEAMAN'S MANUAL, price 3s. half-bound being a Dictionary of sea-terms and phrases, including all the modern ones, not met with in other dictionaries; with instructions to young men entering on a sea-faring life, and the duty of a Midshipman. This book has been carefully revised by Lieutenant WILSON, of the Navy. Necessary for every young sailor; will take up but little room in a sea-chest, and very little money out of his pocket.

*15. An ABSTRACT of the BOOK of COMMON PRAYER; or, a PSALTER, wherein the emphatical words are marked, and the language so pointed, as to render it almost impossible to be read but with propriety; price 2s. 6d. bound and gilt. For the use of schools and those who would not wish to be burthened at church with a larger book; Note, It will lie in the waistcoat-pocket. It contains all the parts of the people, and will bind up with the small sized singing Psalms.

16. TRUSLER'S CHRONOLOGY, 2 vols. 12mo. price 7s. bound, 14th edition, containing every event in ancient and modern history, alphabetically recorded, with the dates affixed. Also, *An ABRIDGEMENT of the above, small enough to lie in a pocket-book, to set persons right in conversation, price 1s. 6d. A new Edition, with great additions, is just published.

*17. The COUNTRY-LAWYER, 2d edition, price 3s. 6d. half-bound; being a summary of all those Acts of Parliament, with the Opinion of the Courts thereon, which persons living in the Country have continually occasion to refer to, with all the tax-acts.

Every subject is here fully and accurately treated of, more so than in any one book extant, and nothing unnecessary put in to crowd it; and it contains every law respecting the Clergy, which no other publication does; with copies of all their instruments and public papers, and all the laws between landlord and tenant, parish-buiness, &c. precluding any application to an attorney or other books.

*18. The LONDON ADVISER and GUIDE, 2d edition, enlarged, price 3s. 6d. half-bound. This is another very useful family-book, universally so allowed; containing every information necessary to persons residing in London: with an Abstract of all those Laws which point out their protection and secure them against the Frauds, Impositions, Insults, and Accidents, to which they are there liable.

This Work treats fully on near Five Hundred different subjects, teaches families how to lay out their money to advantage, and will save them scores of pounds. A person coming to London, should as naturally put this book into his trunk as his linen, as with it he will have no occasion to ask for any information.

*19. TRUSLER'S POCKET GAZETTEER, price 1s. the size of his small CHRONOLOGY, with maps being a short descriptive account of all the places most remarkable in the world, with the longitude and latitude annexed, for the use of geographers, readers of news-papers, youth, &c.

*20. The WAY to be RICH and RESPECTABLE, price 2s. 5th edition, addressed to Men of Small Fortunes, but equally useful to those of Large.

In this pamphlet are given (amid a variety of other matter, estimates or plans of living in the country, from 1801. a year to 17801. shewing, how well a family may live with economy on a little money;) one, pointing out a method by which a gentleman, with a few acres of land, may live as well, and make as good an appearance for 500l. a year, as others that spend double the money, and yet lay by fortunes for his children.

*21. PRACTICAL HUSBANDRY; 3d edition, price 3s. 6d. or the plain method of Farming with a certainty of Grain, the result of long experience, with estimates of different crops, from minutes kept. This work will make any man a farmer, demonstrates a moral certainty of clearing near 400l. a year on 150 acres of land, and shew how to mature timber while growing.

*22. DOMESTIC MANAGEMENT; price 1s. 6d. addressed to young house-keepers; containing directions for servants of all denominations in their domestic employments. There are few young house-keepers but need the information they will here find, and it is the best of precepts that can be given to servants, as it will teach them to time their work, and execute every part of it well; instructions that every servant wants.

*23. SIX YEARS TRAVELS THROUGH TARTARY, undertaken by command of the Empress, by Dr. Pallas, and others, translated from the German, are now first published, complete in three volumes, 8vo. beautifully printed, with 29 high-finished copper-plates by the first artists, fine impressions from new designs, the paper uncommonly fine, stout, and hot-pressed, price 36s in boards, bound 2l. 2s.

24. The HABITABLE WORLD DESCRIBED, or the present State of the People in all Parts of the World. This work is inscribed by permission to his Royal Highness the Duke of York, and has been patronized by many hundred gentlemen of the first rank and learning; indeed, there is no occasion to say any thing of it, the work will speak for itself. It comes out in monthly numbers, was began Jan. 1. 1788; and in this month, Nov. 1792, the 59th number was published. Thus has it stood the test of all examination, and is better received now than ever; it having been found, that the plates and letter-presses, instead of falling off, as most periodical publications do, have risen monthly in excellence more and more, as eminent artists could be found. Each number contains four sheets of letter-press in 8vo, printed on a superfine thick paper, and hot-pressed; with the addition of two highly-finished copper-plates, from original designs, some worth 5s. each, or two quarto maps and one view, and printed on the best columbiere paper. Some few proof impressions of the plates are taken, which, with picked sheets of letter-press, sell for 3s. each.

As between five and six numbers make a volume, eleven volumes are now completed. These describe all the countries round the North-Pole, Russia, China, Sweden, Denmark, Persia, Germany, Prussia, Poland, Hungary, Bohemia, Canada, Turkey, Holland, &c.

Two Shillings a month is no objection to those who buy books, and the author flatters himself as the work goes on, it will be found not only the most elegant work of its kind, and a valuable ornament to every library, but the most entertaining and instructive to all minds and classes, young and old, care being taken in the compiling, not to insert any thing dry and uninteresting, or information that cannot be relied on, but the best accounts that can be collected from writers of every country, and an abundance of new matter, with which the author has been complimented by a number of travellers. It will be completed in about fifteen volumes, and be found useful to travellers.

Persons disposed to take in this work, may begin with No. 1. and go on regularly, or may have any volume they think proper. Each volume in boards, 12s. and if they apply to him, No. 62, Wardour-street, they will be regularly served with fine impressions. Such persons as live at a distance from London, may have them through their bookseller, or get some friend to take them from the author himself in town.

Dr. TRUSLER begs also to recommend the following useful books to the attention of country gentlemen.

*25. ELEMENTS of MODERN GARDENING, or the art of laying out Pleasure-Grounds, and embellishing the views round about our houses, price 2s. 6s.

*26. THE GARDEN-COMPANION, 7th edition, price 1s. 6d. or, a Calendar, pointing out what should be weekly in all the branches of gardening; with the proper seasons for sowing, planting, &c. and the time when the produce may be expected, so as to have a regular succession of flowers, fruits, and vegetables throughout the year; with the art of budding, grafting, laying carnations, &c. and a number of curious experiments in gardening, for the amusement of gentlemen and ladies, and a list of the flowers that blow each month. By the aid of this book, any country servant may look after a kitchen or flower garden.

*27. THE GENTLEMAN'S POCKET FARRIER, price 1s. 6th edition. This book will lie in a pocket-book, for the use of a traveller, and shews how to treat a horse upon a journey, and what remedies are proper for accidents on the road. Many gentlemen have doctored their horses for years by this book, and needed no other advice or assistance. It has a copper-plate, shewing the age of a horse by his teeth, and directs a pillion in the purchase of one.

*28. A DELINEATION of the ROADS of the South and West of England, price 3s. 6s. with a cate for the breast-pocket of a coat, 6d. more. This work is curiously contrived in letter-press, and large enough to be easily read in a carriage or on horse-back, points out every mile-stone and every object a traveller passes, better than that which sells for two guineas.

The following Works are more general, and lately published by Dr. TRUSSLER.

29. Lord BACON'S HISTORY of HENRY VII. 8vo. 6s. bound; written in 1616, but now first penned in modern language, without losing the spirit of the original; a proper companion for LITTON's, Hen. 11. &c.

USEFUL and FAMILIAR BOOKS. (9)

*30. AN EASY WAY to PROLONG LIFE, 6th edition, price 3s. being an enquiry into the nature of all kinds of food, with numerous observations on our way of living. This is a very proper book to read.

*31. EXTRAVAGANCE supported on the Principles of Policy and Philosophy; or, a Philosophic Treatise on Luxury, price 2s.

*32. LECTURES on MIDWIFERY, by the late WILLIAM HUNTER, M. D. taken down by one of his pupils, as delivered, and revised by him, price 2s. This is a very proper treatise for all female Midwives to read, as they have here the practice of the first Man-midwife in the kingdom, rendered intelligible to a female capacity.

*33. THE SUBLIME READER, 2d edition, price 2s. Being those parts of the church-service appropriated to the minister, pointed, and the emphatical words marked as in No. 15, and by the same author, Dr. Truller; with remarks on the service; of general use.

*34. AN ALPHABETICAL LIST of the PROPER NAMES found throughout the BIBLE, orthographically divided, and properly accented, so as to be readily pronounced, price 1s. This will be published after Christmas.

*35. A VIEW of the COMMON and STATUTE LAW: being an ABRIDGEMENT of BLACKSTONE's COMMENTARIES, by Dr. TRUSLER, in 4to. similar to No. 4. in this list; but the subject treated more at large, price 15s. in boards.

*36. AN EIGHT-YEAR ALMANACK, price 7s. 6l. on moving principles, handsomely engraved. Though simple, it tells the day of the month and week, the rising and setting of the sun, age and face of the moon, tides, eclipses, moveable feasts, &c. for eight years to come, and requires shifting but once a month; is as useful as a clock, and when framed, as ornamental as a picture. It is the size of a sheet of paper.

*37. HOYLE's TREATISE on the GAME of WHIST, with the modern improvements, &c. Small enough to lie in a lady's pocket-book, price 1s.

*38. THE VICTIM of a VOW, or, the DANGERS of DUPLICITY; a very interesting Novel, on a new basis, 2 vols. price 7s. bound.

(10) USEFUL and FAMILY BOOKS.

39. LIFE, or the ADVENTURES of WILLIAM RAMBLE, Esq. By the Author of Modern Times. 3 vol. 12mo. 9s. To be published after Christmas.

40. The MONTHLY MILITARY REPOSITORY, price 3s. 6l. in 4<sup>to</sup>, with 7 sheets of letter press, and 2 Copperplates. This is published monthly, and will contain from time to time every thing that is useful and entertaining to the historian, and the gentlemen of the army and navy, with portraits by J. Hall, from miniatures drawn from the life. Four numbers are out. Every third number contains a portrait, and the price of that number is 4s. 6d.

Besides the eight year ALMANACK, Dr. Truſſer publishes Annually two others, in Nov. viz.

1. The CLERICAL and UNIVERSAL ALMANACK, for the pocket, with the lessons for the day added to each day of the calendar, an abridgement of the Court Calendar, and other matters; handsomely printed on fine paper and hot-pressed, price 1s. done up in marble paper.— This Almanack was printed and published by J. Walter, Black-frims, but since the year 1793, Dr. Truſſer has printed it himself, and means to do it in future. He begs leave to guard therefore against any Almanack being imposed on for his, as his name will be in the title-page of his own, stamped in manuscript.

2. TRUSSLER'S COUNTRY ALMANACK, 12mo. price 1s. handsomely printed on fine paper, hot-pressed, of a pocket size, and done up in marble paper, but is capable of being done up as a pocket-book.

To this is added, a Gardening Calendar, with a list of Family Taxes, sundry useful tables and other matter; and every year will be given, some new experiments in Vegetation; and a variety of matter, useful to persons in the country.

His Address to the Clergy, may be had gratis, with a list of the subjects of his engraved Sermons, imitating manuscript, and a specimen of the engraving. This shall be sent gratis, to any Clergyman, writing for it by the post (post-paid,) it being printed on one sheet of paper for the purpose.

USEFUL and FAMILY BOOKS. (11)

Dr. TRUSLER begs leave to observe, that only 400 copies of any one sermon, are, at any time vendid; that they do not pass through the hands of the booksellers, of course, the Clergy may rest satisfied that they never can be too general, and if they apply to him, will never interfere, and that, as his Collection is selected and compiled from the best authors who wrote for fame, he has called the flowers of the whole, so that, altogether, it is the finest body of divinity extant, and the engravings is so large as to be read by any eye. More than one hundred and fifty Sermons are on sale now. The price is reduced from 1s. to 6s. each.

Dr. TRUSLER is in possession of a few sets of HOGARTH MORALIZED (of which he is the Author,) proof impressions, printed on French paper, which may be seen at his house, and which he is willing to sell for ten guineas the set. The uncommon file of this work has made good impressions very scarce and valuable. The work published by Boydell is merely the old plates retouched, in doing which, all the spirit, likeness, and beauty of the originals are lost.

N. B. This list may be had gratis, and any bookseller will get it for a customer.

THE great success of my Almanacks, and my publishing them a month sooner than the other almanacks, not only induced but enabled certain wholesale book-sellers in London to re-print exact copies of them, and sell them to the country book-sellers in the room of mine, thus injuring me most essentially. To prevent this in future, I shall not publish mine till the time when the Stationers Company publish theirs, which is about the 19th of November; this will prevent their copying, and to prevent their imposing any other upon a discerning public under my name, I will stamp my name on the title-page of every one I sell; if they imitate this it will be forgery.

And that they may not deceive the public by printing almanacks similar to mine, and calling my Moore's Almanack, Trusler's Moore's Almanack improved, as they have hitherto done, I have thought proper not only to alter the title, but to change the very face of the whole. They therefore who wish to have my almanacks will take care of imposition, and buy none but what have my name stamped on the title-page, and my advertisements at the end. These printed for Willels, Symmonds, and Evans,

my copy

I have nothing to do with. J. TRUSLER.

The PANACEA, or Universal Aperient;

A Very valuable medicine, that has for sixty years past, been privately administered, by my family, and with success, is now offered to the public; and, I flatter myself, I stand so fair with the world as to be credited in saying, that in many cases, where the whole art of medicine has failed, this has speedily and wonderfully cured. Its great power consists in removing obstructions, which occasion four-fifths of the disorders incident to the body, owing either to chronic causes, intemperance, surfeit, indigestion, repletion, redundancy or deficiency of bile, colds, or sedentary life; and operates either by gentle vomiting or purging, as a diuretic by urine, or a diaphoretic by sweat, and bringing nature to its proper functions by one or other of these means; clearing away obstructions wherever they lie, whether in the viscera, fluids, or other parts of the body; and, of course, it will be found very beneficial in gouty and rheumatic complaints, and a cure for fevers of all kinds, jaundice, scurvy, wind, female obstructions internal and external inflammations, ulcers, pains of the stomach, bowels, back, limbs, and of the head, where it arises from stomachic causes; coughs, shortness of breath, fluttering of heart, stone and gravel, dropsy, and in ill habits of body, waste and even consumption, where the lungs are not too far gone. In short, let the disorder be what it will, where other remedies have failed, a trial of this is recommended, being of a nature perfectly innocent, and what an infant of twenty-four hours old, and women with child may safely take. It is made up in pills, 18 doses in one box, price One Guinea each, with full directions, and sold at No. 62, Wardour-Street, London. Any bookseller who has it not, will on application get it; and the usual allowance will be made him. A short treatise on the powers and operation of this medicine may be had as above gratis.

J. TRUSLER.

Dr. Trusler will be thankful to any one, having found benefit therefrom, that will make him acquainted with it, and send him the case.
